

YOUR CANNABIS USE TOO HIGH?

TIME TO TAKE IT DOWN?

Researchers at VA Puget Sound are conducting the Re-COUP study to learn if an investigational drug, prazosin, can help both those with and without PTSD to reduce or stop using cannabis.

ELIGIBILITY CRITERIA INCLUDES:

- Any gender, age 21-65
- Veterans and non-Veterans
- Diagnosis of PTSD (optional)
- Have problems related to current cannabis use
- Have a desire to reduce or stop using cannabis
- No problematic use of drugs other than cannabis or tobacco in the past 6 months
- Good general health

PARTICIPATION INCLUDES:

- 12 visits over about 16 weeks with researchers at VA Puget Sound in Seattle. Visits may be virtual, telephone, in person, or a combination
- 3 months of taking prazosin
- Urine drug testing
- Questionnaires about cannabis use
- Questions about mental health symptoms
- Review of health and medications
- Compensation provided

RESEARCH COORDINATOR: (206) 265-1311